About

   My name is Pham Nguyen Chi Khoa. I am currently a final-year student at the university. At university, I am sociable, cheerful, responsible, and trustworthy. I always strive to complete my tasks to the best of my ability. I started learning front-end development in 2020. Now, thanks to Next.js, ORMs (like Prisma), and some database knowledge, I can also do back-end development. I am always willing to learn and improve my skills.
